

$$$$

Acknowledgments

We've always suspected that authors use the acknowledgments section as a frugal way to thank people without actually buying them any gifts.

Now that we've actually put together our first book, we realize authors love shouting their appreciation because no book is possible without the generous support of so many incredible people.

Our editor Ann Treistman has earned our undying gratitude for believing in our book from the very beginning and providing us with unwavering support throughout the entire process. We absolutely loved working with the talented folks at Skyhorse Publishing—Tony Lyons, Bill Wolfsthal, Abigail Gehring, Kathleen Go, and LeAnna Weller Smith—let's do another dozen books together! A huge thanks goes to our wonderful agent Stacey Glick and her crew at Dystel & Goderich. Your patience, intelligence, and guidance helped make this book possible.

First-time authors need lots of handholding, and we received plenty of it from veteran writers such as Jonathan Fields, Jeff Yeager, Leo Babauta, Scott Fox, Trent Hamm,