
3. Creative Action Institute

Creative Action Institute (CreativeActionInstitute.org), which began as ArtCorps, is a program specifically designed for professional artists. The program focuses on using art as a teaching tool, as well as a means of expression, for communities that face pressing social problems.

4. Voluntary Service Overseas

Voluntary Service Overseas (www.VSOInternational.org) was recognized as the International Aid and Development Charity of the Year at the 2004 UK Charity Awards. They have placed over 70,000 volunteers, primarily in Africa and Asia. They provide a stipend in addition to covering all expenses. While most assignments last six months to two years, there are some special projects for experienced professionals lasting between two weeks and six months.

FREE SHORTER-TERM PROGRAMS

5. Winrock International

This nonprofit organization (www.Winrock.org) works to build economic prosperity and civil empowerment while encouraging sustainable resource use and environmental protection. They have projects in many parts of Latin America, Asia, and Africa. They offer to cover all travel expenses, including a small per diem, and most assignments last two to three weeks, including travel time.

6. ACIDI/VOCA

ACIDI/VOCA (www.acdivoca.org) leads projects focused primarily on economic development. They are looking for experienced professionals with knowledge of business, marketing, agriculture, food processing, and agrotourism, in addition to other project-specific areas. They administer projects in Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, and Latin America and cover all project-related expenses. Typical assignments are between two and four weeks long.

7. International Executive Service Corps

IESC (www.iesc.org) encourages the development of private business and industry with the goal of increasing prosperity and development around the world. They are looking for volunteers with a background in business, marketing, management,