

- Hang dry your clothes on a drying rack or clothesline.
- Defrost your freezer twice a year so it doesn't have to work as hard.
- Use the microwave or toaster oven instead of turning on the big oven.

Similar to the habits we mentioned in the chapter about saving on your water bill, it might be hard to remember to do all of these every day. Pick one or two to focus on until they become habit, then move on to practicing all the others on this list.
