

No matter how diligent you are at reducing electricity usage, if you have outdated, energy hungry appliances, you'll just be fighting a losing battle. If you can't afford to replace any appliances with high efficiency ones right now, start a separate savings account so you have enough to buy one in the future.

Many states offer tax-free shopping days throughout the year, so check to see when Energy Star appliances make that list!