

I keep hoping worldwide Wi-Fi will become an option in the near future, but until then, we have to do whatever we can to cut this monthly expense. In the meantime, you can also help your internet pay for itself by using search engine reward sites like Swagbucks or Bing to pay you for things you usually do online anyway. I earn at least a $5 Amazon gift card every month when I consistently use these tools!