

- After shaving, soak in baby oil or olive oil to keep rust-free
- Store in a cool, dry place to avoid humidity...and rust (which means the shower is probably a bad idea)
- Run them up and down a piece of denim (ten to fifteen times, opposite the direction you would shave—Joseph swears by this!)

Lastly, there is truth in the saying, “A little goes a long way.” Don’t feel like you need to use a ton of product to get the results you want. A small pump of lotion covers a bigger area than you might think, and a dollop of body wash quickly lathers from just a few bubbles to more than plenty.
