

what that person needs even five to ten years from now! I love scenic photography and have taken my own pictures and put verses on them and have them in 5x7 cards that you can frame and hang. I also have asked the graduate for their favorite verses and then incorporate that into the picture.

—Judy, ND

4. GET CREATIVE WITH STORE-BOUGHT GIFTS

If you don't consider yourself to be too handy with the glue gun, buy a few store-bought items, but instead of giving them as they are, try to display them in a creative way. Pinterest is another great place to find ideas, but here are a few quick examples:

For Baby:

- Diaper Cake
- Pamper Basket for Mom
- Onesies with Flair (Embroidery, Iron-on, etc.)

For the Bride:

- Laundry Basket filled with Supplies
- Monogrammed Towels
- Honeymoon Basket

For the Grad:

- Shower Caddy with Personal Care Supplies