

The next time you receive an invitation to a baby shower, bridal shower, graduation, or wedding, remember...the most expensive gift does not always equal the most meaningful one. If you play a big part, such as hosting a shower, making the cake, or traveling to a wedding that results in extra hotel and airline fees, it's okay to scale back and not spend as much. Your presence is a gift in itself.