

- Using the manufacturer's recommended grade of motor oil improves gas mileage up to 2%.
- An extra 100 pounds of weight decreases gas mileage by only 1%.

The conclusion? Driving crazy isn't healthy for you or your car, and a smooth running vehicle gives the most fuel for your dollar.