

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	xi
Chapter 1 The Ostrich Syndrome	I
Facing money problems and the dangers of ignoring them.
Chapter 2 Do You Run Out of Money	21
Before You Run Out of Month?
Effective money management skills, including creating a budget, tracking disappearing money, and setting and meeting financial goals.
Chapter 3 Credit: It's Not Your Money	45
The wise use of credit involves knowing when to stop, the hidden costs of credit, the power of the credit report, and how to overcome credit problems.
Chapter 4 I Need Wheels	69
The complexities of buying a car include starting with a car budget, making the right purchase, learning how to make insurance and financing choices simple, and avoiding losing the car to a reposessor.
Chapter 5 The Semester of Living	93
Dangerously
Being in college presents special money problems, such as easy access to credit, using student loans for non-student expenses, dangerous sports gambling on the Internet, and dropping out due to money problems.	