

RALPH WANGER is Founding Partner of Chicago's Wanger Asset Management, which is responsible for more than $5 billion in three mutual funds—Acorn, Acorn International, and Acorn USA—and two variable annuities, Wanger Advisors Trust US and International. Acorn, created in 1970 to specialize in the stocks of small, rapidly growing companies, has one of the best long-term performance records in the mutual fund industry. The mutual fund tracking service Morningstar has given Acorn five stars, its highest rating, and in 1996 Worth magazine named Acorn "the best small cap growth fund." In addition, Acorn International is the leading international small cap fund.

Wanger is widely known for his witty and far-ranging quarterly letters to fund shareholders. He has been profiled and quoted in every major business and financial publication as well as in the general media. A graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with a master's degree from the same university, Wanger lives in Chicago with his wife, Leah, a Harvard Ph.D. and partner in Wanger Asset Management, and their two daughters. He has three children from a previous marriage.

EVERETT MATTLIN is a writer specializing in investments and personal finance. He resides in Potomac, Maryland.
