

Expectations

onboard

30 days

60 days

4. Setting Goals and Expectations

The expectations are set with the plane passengers that they have to follow the seat belt sign, behave properly with the airline staff, keep seats in upright position, and switch off phones before takeoff. The penalties for not fulfilling expectations are also explained. In a similar manner, you need to set goals and expectations for the new employee.

Probation

90 days

Typically, a 30-60-90 plan is prepared, where the goals for 30 days, 60 days, and 90 days are set. The expectations are set that failing to meet the goals may result in offboarding. This 90-day period is called the probation period.