

Types of Absenteeism

There are two types of absenteeism.

Unplanned Absenteeism

All things in life cannot be planned. Emergency can come any time. You need to make adjustments by deploying a temporary workforce. Unplanned absenteeism can negatively impact business operations as there is limited time to find temporary workforce. You must ensure that all your absences are not unplanned.

Planned Absenteeism

Employees plan their absences beforehand. You can budget for planned absenteeism and the business operations do not get impacted.

Practical Tip:

Encourage your employees to plan their leaves and publish the calendar. Ask people to plan their leaves in such a way that it does not disrupt the whole operation.

Let's understand the way absenteeism is calculated.
