

Process of Exit

The process of exit has six steps.

1. Initiation

The exit process is initiated by submitting a separation request. The request is made by the employee by submitting a resignation letter in the case of voluntary exit and by the organization for other reasons. The notice period defined in the employment contract is to be served or compensated for both voluntary and involuntary exit. You need to acknowledge the separation request made by an employee in cases of voluntary exit cases.

