

Suppose, you want to have a cheese burst pizza that comes for INR 500.

High chances are that you will choose the second option if you have an ICICI credit card and you do not have need to go to the pizza joint like a date or a meeting.

Interestingly, the quality and price of the pizza have not changed at all. Multiple factors such as the, like distance of the pizza joint from your house, the credit card you use, and the amount of the delivery fee, changed the total value of pizza for you.
