

In the End

In certain cases, a delinquent employee might file a legal case against the organization. Hence you must keep documentation supporting just cause and, natural justice process, and evidence. As an HR expert, you must ensure that any termination should not result in a lawsuit. You may do so by counseling the delinquent employee to “move on” with life. That is another reason to be even more sensitive about the privacy of the proceedings.

At the same time, you must be cognizant about managerial biases. You must not take disciplinary action against an employee without following the proper process, which should be based on a complaint from the manager. You are the custodian of the process. Your behavior reflects the behavior of the organization.

That brings us to the final part of the book. We will discuss the digital aspect of Human Resources in this part.

Your discipline makes others disciplined.

Hands-on HR

Here are some hands-on questions for you to apply what you have learnt in this chapter.

1. Prepare a Warning Letter

Prepare a final warning letter for Habitual Absenteeism. Here is a sample warning letter addressing inappropriate behavior for your perusal.

Date: 01, Apr 2022

Mr. Ajit Trivedi

Customer Service Associate

Subject: Final Warning for Inappropriate Behavior

Dear Ajit,

It has come to our attention that you behaved inappropriately with a customer during a customer meeting held on March 20, 2022. This behavior is not acceptable within our organization. Effective immediately, you are placed on a one-month warning. During this period, your behavior will be closely monitored.

Please be advised that it is important to take this warning letter seriously, as violating company policy is not acceptable. We kindly request that you apologize to the customer, improve your conduct, and provide a written apology within three days.

In the event that you do not submit the apology or repeat the mistake, we may be forced to take more severe measures, such as suspension or termination.

We value every employee, including you, as an asset to our company. Therefore, we encourage you to acknowledge your mistake and work on improving yourself.

Please do not hesitate to contact me directly if you have any queries or concerns regarding this letter.

Yours Sincerely,
