2. Comparator Basket

The Comparator Basket is a group of companies used as a benchmark to compare your compensation practices. You should focus on these three factors while selecting companies for the comparator basket.

a. Competitors

The companies of similar size operating in the same industry or location.

c. Providers

The companies that provide talent to you. You might pick your enterprise sales people from organizations in the Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) sectors.

b. Pickers

The companies that hire employees from your organization. These companies might vary in size or come from different industries. For example retail organizations hire their sales people from Fast Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) organizations.

After finalizing the comparator basket, you should collect data.
