

3. Collect Data

You may collect data from the Industry reports, job postings, or salary surveys. You may ask compensation survey partners such as Mercer or Aon to conduct salary surveys for you. They provide data and trends for each job role, along with job descriptions. The data includes:

The next job is to analyze the data. You can seek assistance from the compensation survey partners, who collected data for you.