

2. Market Adjustment

You may adjust salaries of all employees based on market conditions. This is generally done to control mass attrition or attract people in difficult market situations.

3. Cost of Living Adjustments (COLA)

You must adjust the salaries of the employees to keep up with the rising cost of living and inflation. This should also be provided in case of inter-location transfers, as cost of living can be different for different cities.

4. Change of Role

If the role of any employee changes due to transfer or promotion, the salary should change based on the responsibilities and work being handled by the employee.
