

2. Orientation and Joining

This stage can be compared to the process of entering the airport, getting the boarding pass, completing the security, boarding the airplane, finding your place and having initial interaction with the crew members. In a similar manner, the candidate is added to the company's payroll on the joining date.

