

Meet Manish, a young guy from a small town where most people's profession is farming. However, Manish wishes for more than farming. He dreams of change, not just for himself but for the whole town.

Similar to Manish, many people wish to start something of their own, but doubts always linger in their minds.

Manish's Town

Manish is in doubt whether he is up for the new challenge. His mind has many questions such as -

1. Will he be able to handle the tough times along with starting a new journey?
2. Can he put all his efforts into making the journey successful?

In this chapter, we will explore how you can get ready for the startup journey.

