

6.1 What is Product-Market Fit (PMF) ?

There are multiple paths to reach the center – some lead to dead ends, while others lead to product-market fit.

It might seem magical, but achieving product-market fit (PMF) is about creating a solution that perfectly meets to the needs and preferences of your target audience. When your product relates so well to your audience, they eagerly adopt it because it solves their problems or fulfils their needs. In essence, PMF means your product meets the exact market demand.

