

1.5 Ideation Approaches

1. Passion Driven Ideas

These refer to ideas that might or might not have a market yet. Finding ideas that are passion-driven: These include finding or identifying your passions, which can further lead to startup ideation.

For example, imagine you love food and enjoy exploring different cafes and restaurants in your city. You're always eager to discover new and exciting places, but deciding where to go can sometimes feel overwhelming.

Now, imagine an app designed for you. This app uses the user's current location to show the best-rated cafes nearby and any discounts or special offers they have. Therefore, whenever a person is in the mood for a cafe adventure, they can simply open the app and easily discover the perfect spot to visit.
