

4. External Funding: Scaling Fast with Investor Money

External funding means bringing in investors, banks, or strategic partners to inject capital into your business. It allows you to move faster, hire better talent, and scale aggressively. But it also means giving up control, whether in the form of equity dilution or financial obligations.

Types of External Funding

1

Equity Financing – Investors buy a share of your company in exchange for capita

