

Some of their growth highlights are as follows

By 2011, Zomato had firmly established its dominance in Delhi/NCR, and had expanded into other Indian cities like Pune, Bangalore, Chennai, Hyderabad, and Ahmedabad.

It also seized the opportunity presented by the smartphone boom by launching its mobile application, a move that significantly fueled its growth.

In 2012, Zomato entered international markets, launching operations in countries including the UAE, Sri Lanka, Qatar, the United Kingdom, the Philippines, and South Africa. The following year, it further expanded its global footprint to include Turkey, Brazil, and New Zealand.

By 2017, Zomato proudly reported profitability across all 24 countries and introduced a zero-commission model. This was accompanied by an impressive 81% growth in revenue.

During the same year, its online ordering services crossed the milestone of 3 million orders per month, with Zomato serving over 1.5 million orders in a single day

Zomato achieved a significant milestone in July 2021 by delivering its 1 billionth order.

The company boasted an average of 226,000 monthly active food delivery restaurant partners and 352,000 monthly delivery partners. In fiscal year FY23, Zomato recorded 647 million orders and served 58 million customers across more than 800 cities.
