

11.3 Luxury Meets Loyalty: How CRED Cracked the High-Spending Audience

1. How It Started?

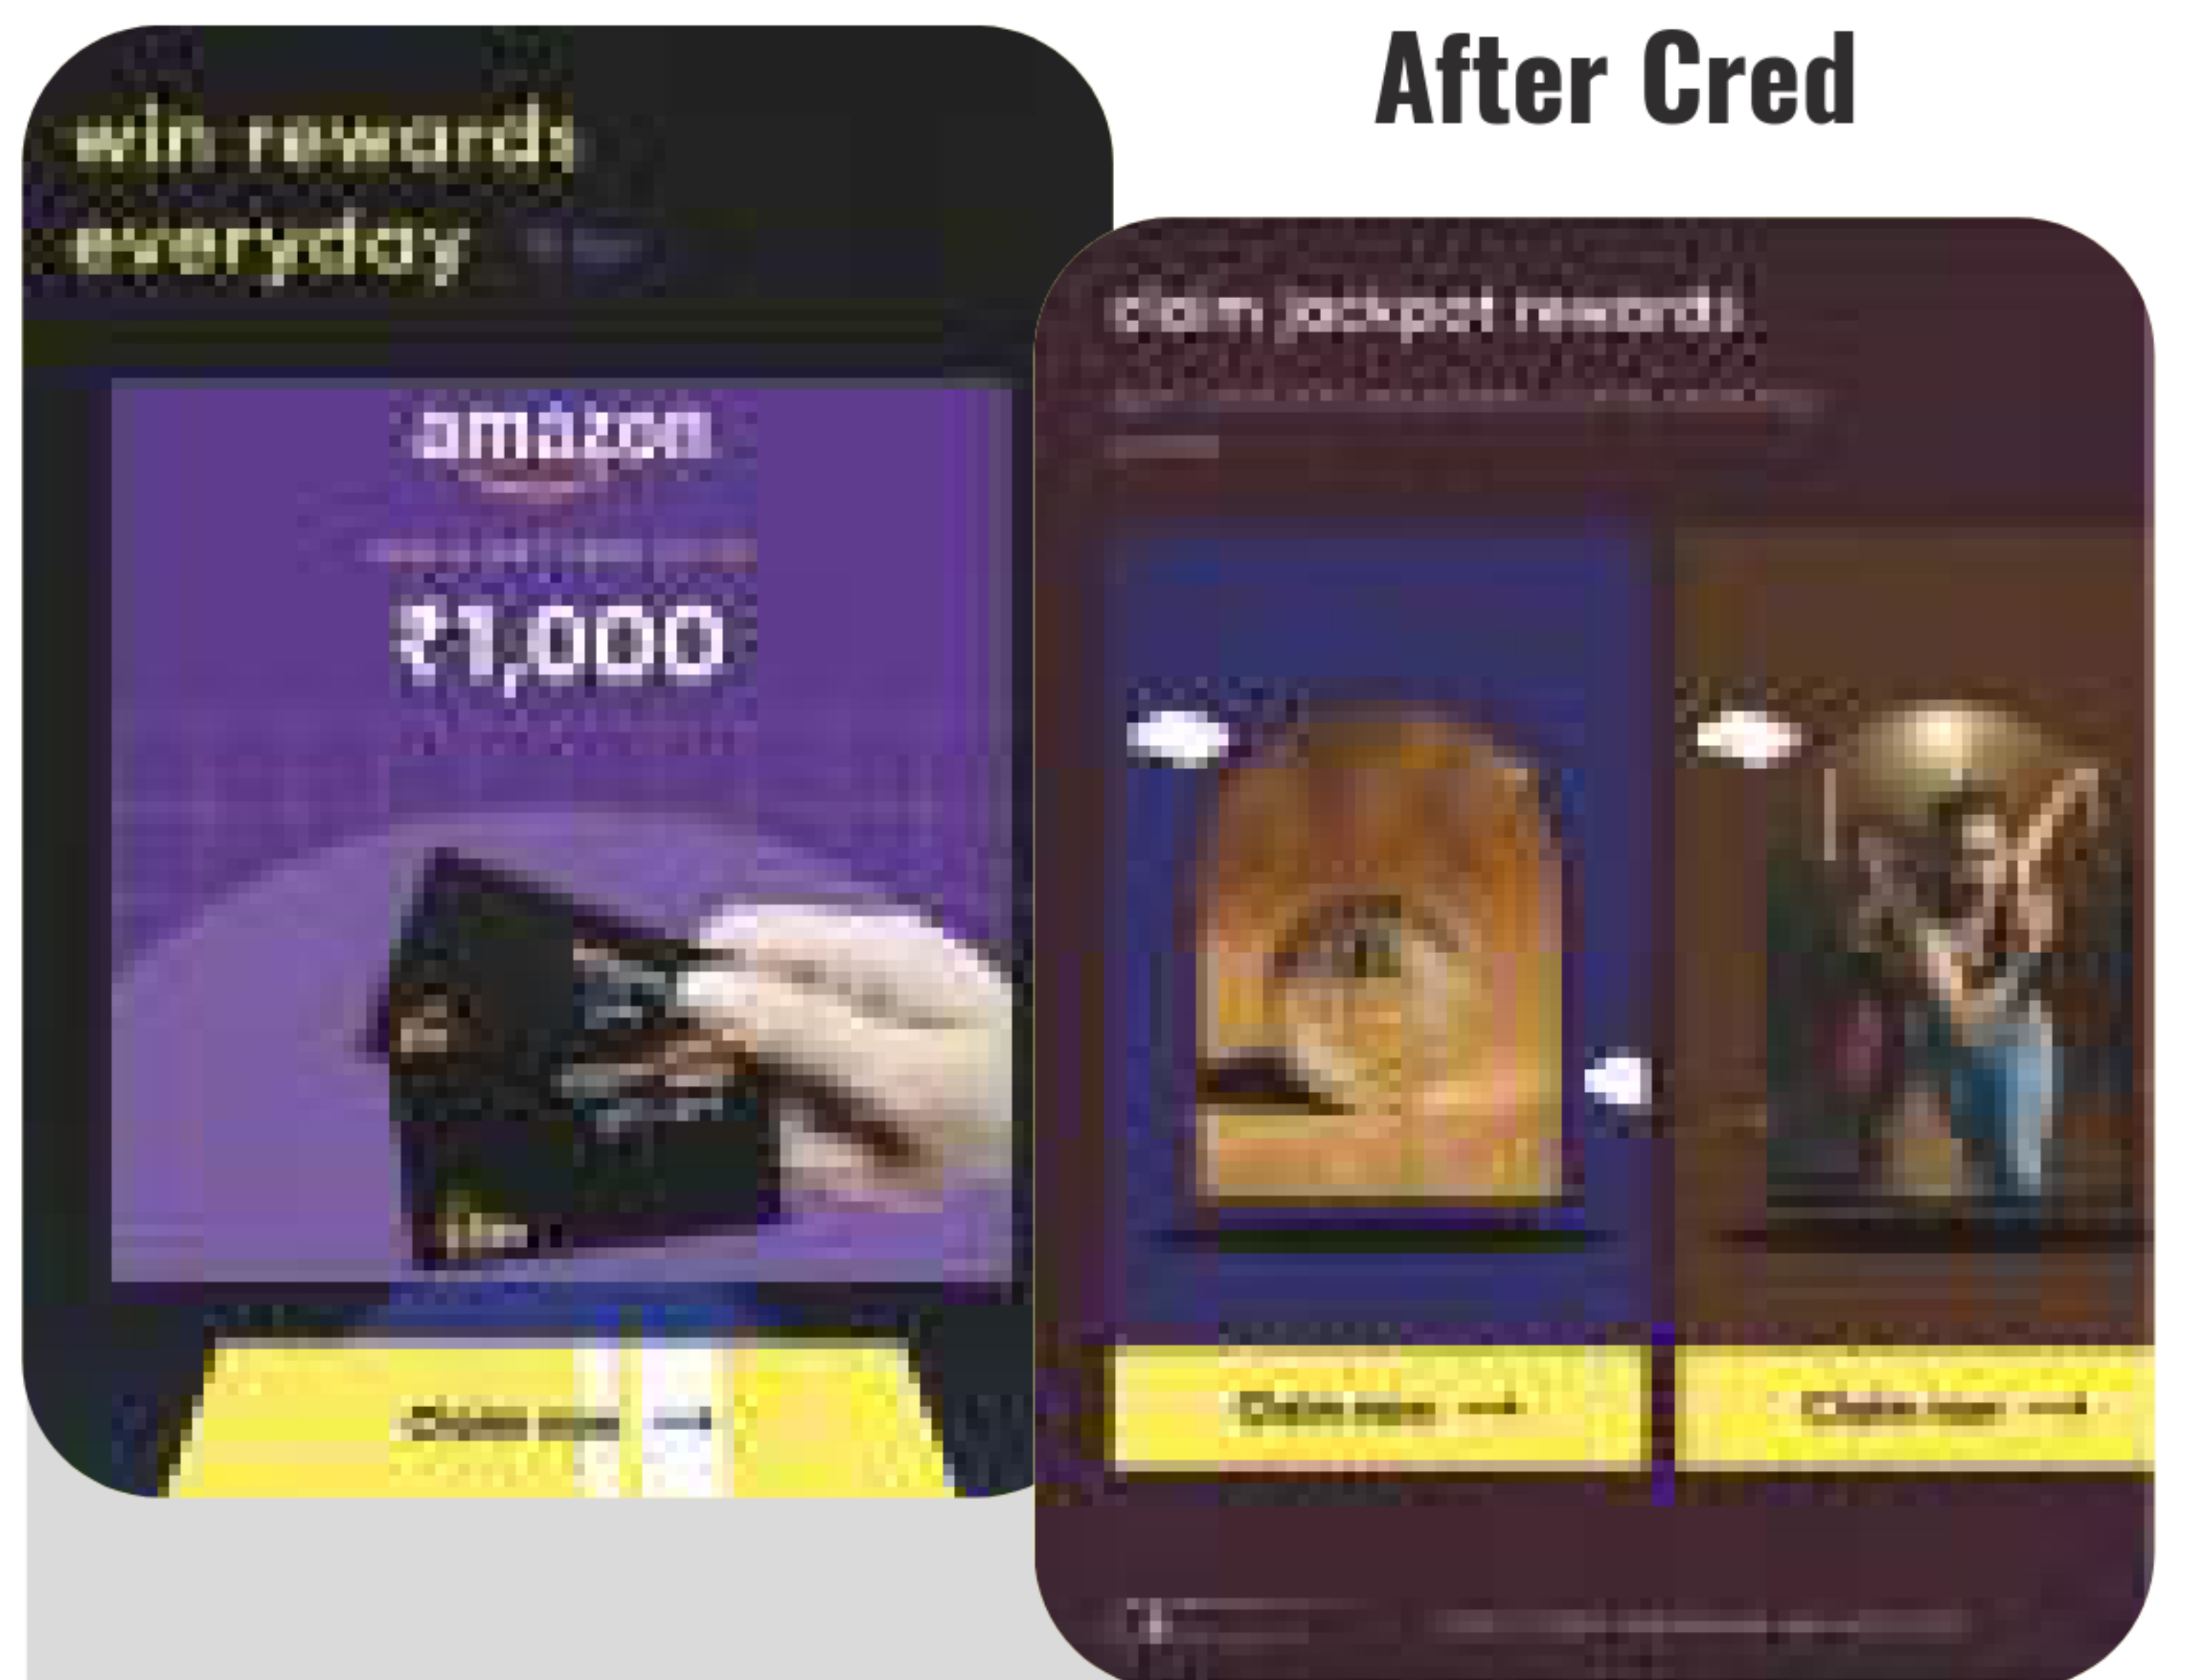

Founded in 2018 by Kunal Shah, CRED set out to revolutionize India's credit card rewards system. Recognizing the challenges users face in optimizing rewards and managing finances, CRED created a platform that simplifies reward redemption while promoting responsible credit behavior.

Before Cred

Credit card users struggled with optimizing rewards and managing their finances efficiently.

After Cred

A seamless platform for effortless reward redemption and responsible credit usage.

Kunal Shah's success with ventures like FreeCharge gave him deep insights into consumer behavior and market trends, shaping CRED's innovative approach to credit card rewards.

Growth Framework

CRED enhances user experience by offering a seamless platform and expanding its network of business partnerships. By prioritizing an intuitive interface, CRED attracts and retains users while making reward redemption effortless. The company continuously innovates, forging partnerships to provide exclusive deals and rewards. This focus on user experience and strategic collaborations has cemented CRED's position as a leader in the credit card rewards space.