

2. Building Block 2: Value Proposition

➤ Products and Services

Providing products and services that generate income while addressing customer pain points ensures long-term business success. Businesses create value by offering solutions that alleviate challenges, fostering loyalty and repeat customers. A strong relationship between buyers and sellers leads to sustainable growth.

Menstrual Cycle Tracker

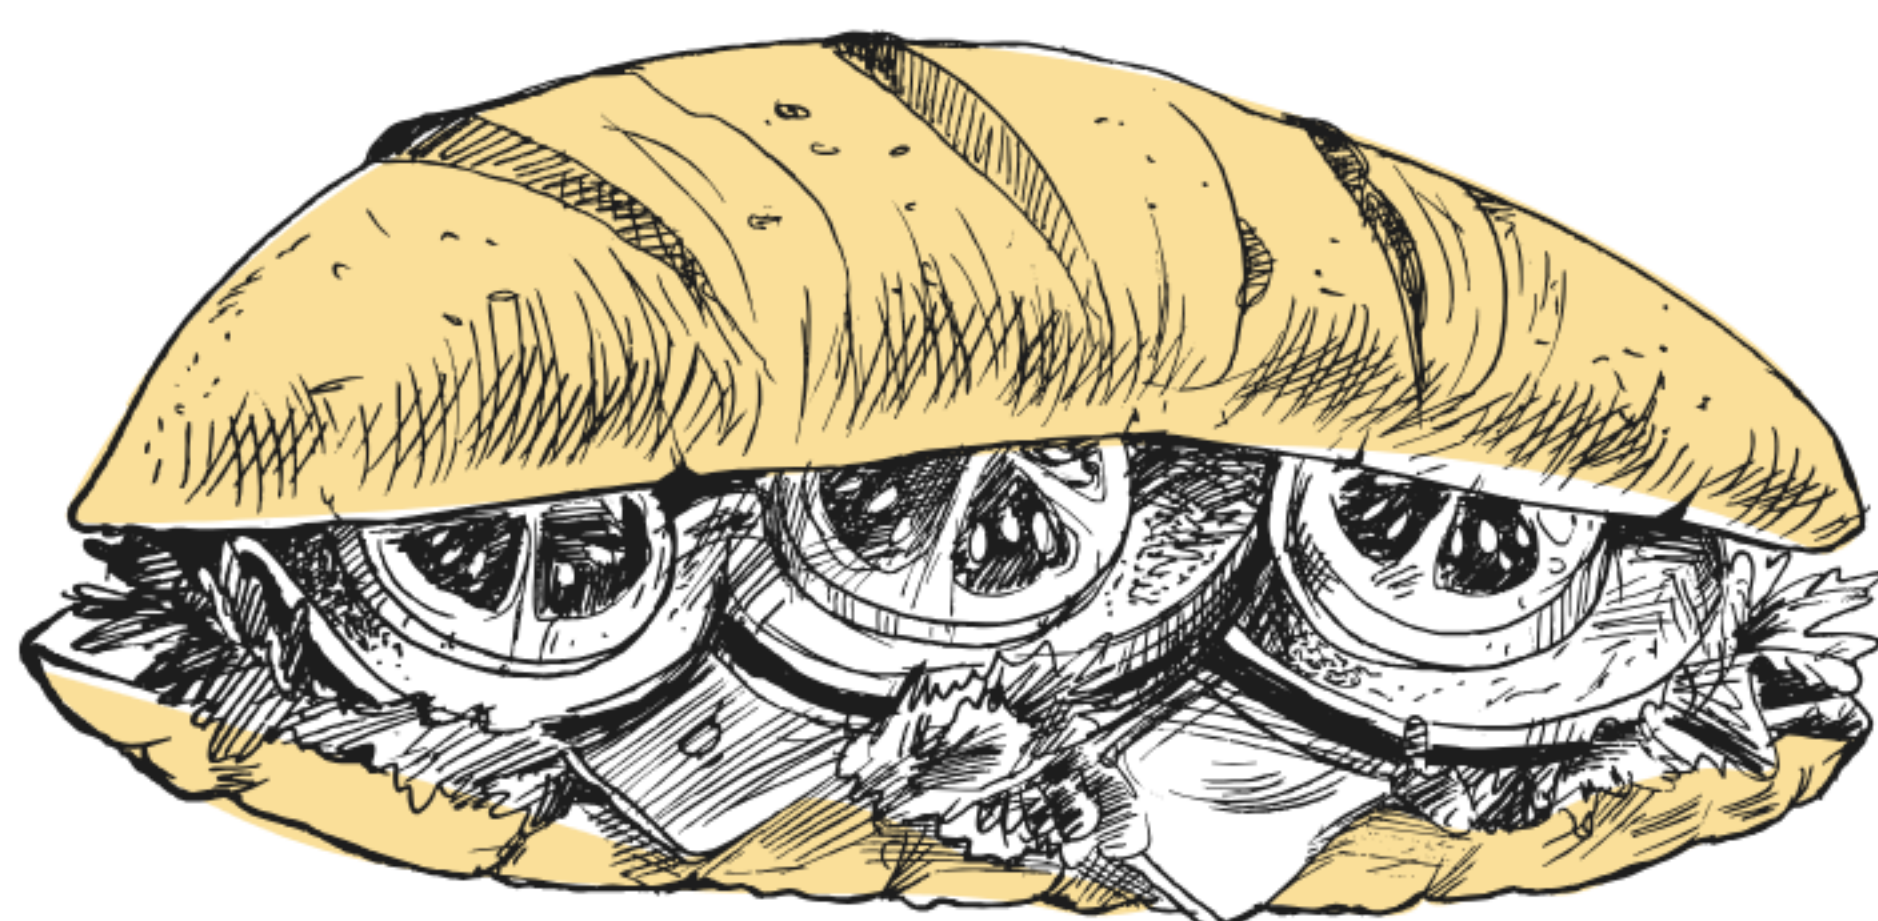

Reminder to User
(Keep Track of Your Cycle)

➤ Pain Relievers

Attract customers by describing how your product or service relieves the customer's pain. Tell them how your products are affordable, provides high value and solve their problems. Addressing the issue of emotions like frustration and stress that customers may experience can improve their overall emotional well-being.

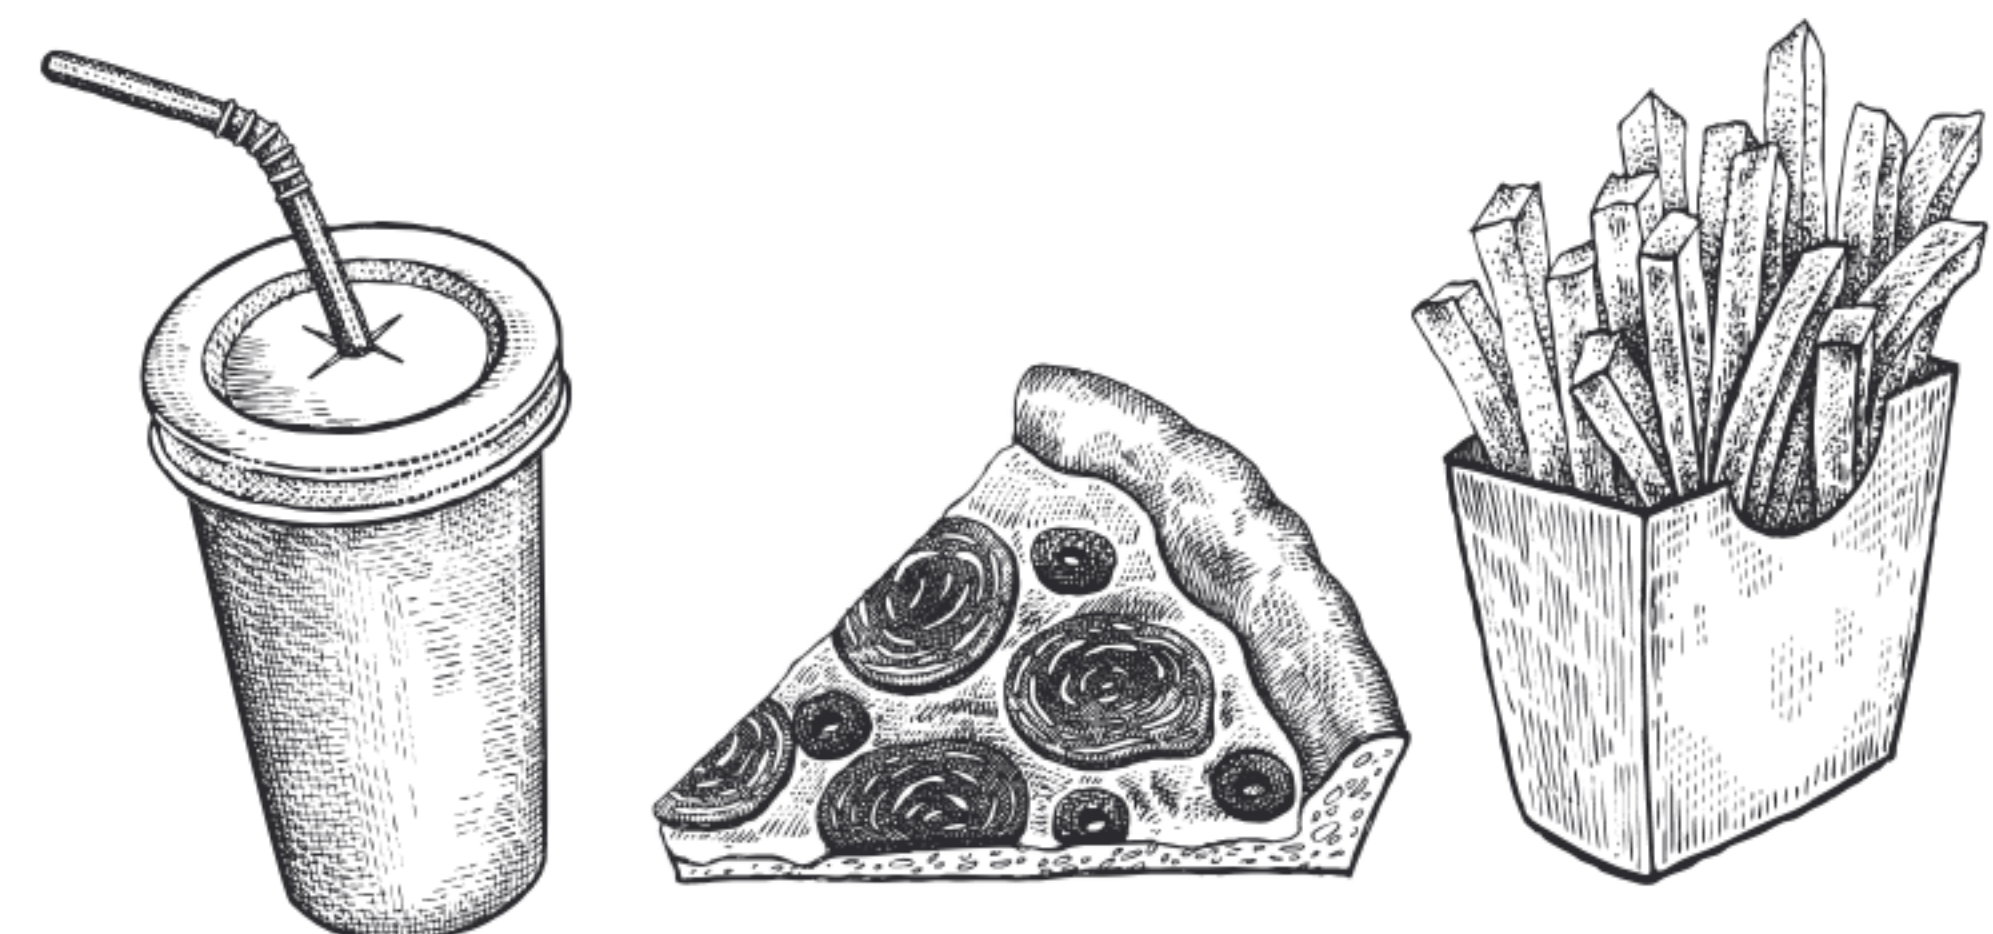

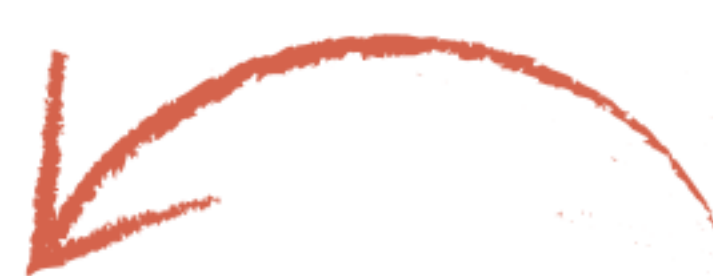

Making it easier to use your products and services can make it convenient for customers. Also, mitigating risk, dealing with consequences, and providing meaningful solutions can make a meaningful difference in your customer's lives and build stronger relationships with them.

Subway

High Nutritional Value, Hygienic and
Un-Adulterated

Relieves Pain

Unhygienic Food, Poor Nutrition Value,
Adulteration, Slow Service

