c. Things to be cautious about when using credit cards

1. ATM Withdrawal charges

2% - 3.5% charge

When you use your credit card to withdraw from an ATM, you can be charged an additional 2-3.5% of the transaction amount as ATM withdrawal charges. Hence, avoid withdrawing from ATMs using credit cards.

2. No interest free period is unpaid

If you don't pay your full bill on time, you don't get the 30-45 day interest-free period in the next bill cycle. Usually, when people pay only the minimum due, they think they are still getting the interest-free period and keep using their credit cards. However, they are being charged high interest on the same. So always pay your bill in full to benefit from an interest-free period.
