

3. Buying a Car: A Need or a Luxury?

Is having a car a luxury or a necessity?

If you stay in a big city, finding a cab can be a nightmare! You start looking for cabs on 3 different apps and wait for a cab to confirm, seeing the fare increase by 50% while waiting and refreshing. Then finally, when you do find a cab, the cab driver calls you, asks for your drop location, and then cancels the ride.

20 minutes to your destination, and you spend 30 minutes finding a cab!

This was my experience in Bangalore, where my house was away from the metro, and most places I had to visit didn't have metro connectivity. The Auto drivers rarely went on metre, and many charged exorbitant rates to non-locals. I had no other option than to rely on cabs.
