

3. Types of Life-Insurances

Primarily we have two types of insurance plans -

- Term Insurance
- Insurance + Investments (ULIPs, Endowment Plans, Money Bank Plans)

Life Insurance
(EP, ULIPs, MBP)

a. Term Insurance

Beneficiary

If the Policy Owner dies within the policy's term

Insurance Company

Term Insurance plans are the most straightforward form of life insurance which only provides you insurance coverage. In this, the insurance company pays a predetermined amount, Sum Assured, to the beneficiary in the case of the policyholder's demise during the policy term. Policy term is the duration for which term plans cover you. Term plans are one of the best and affordable ways to ensure your dependents are financially sound if anything happens to you.