

c. How much Risk should you take?

1. It depends on how close you are to your financial goal.

2. But here's the crucial part – it's also about what you're comfortable with. Your investments should never keep you up at night. So, even if you have a long-term horizon, if you are not comfortable with investing in riskier products then you shouldn't.