Now let’s continue our previous exercise, according to the output you get for monthly savings for each particular goal write it down in the below table:

| Goals | Monthly Saving Target |
|-------|-----------------------|
|       |                       |
|       |                       |
|       |                       |
|       |                       |
|       |                       |
|       |                       |

At this step you will realise that it is not practivally possible to achieve all your goals. Hence, you’ll have to prioritise. So write down your goals in order of priority.

| Most Important |  |
|----------------|--|
|                |  |
|                |  |
|                |  |
|                |  |
|                |  |
|                |  |
