

during periods when inflation is having a significant effect in eating away at reported profits.