

And the rest, as they say, is history. That single newspaper article spawned six follow-up pieces in the Sun Times, appearances on numerous Chicago radio stations, and a recurring segment on the Jonathon Brandmeier radio show in Chicago, along with television news features including ABCs Nightline, the CBS Early Show, and Fox News, among others.

With that kind of news coverage, Jill Cataldo had no difficulty attracting potential students for the coupon classes she began conducting in August 2008, and soon her SuperCouponing Workshops went viral (now available via satellite and on DVD). Besides continuing her workshops, Jill writes a nationally-syndicated newspaper column entitled “Super-Couponing Tips,” read by over twenty million people each week, and is a popular Chicago radio personality with her savings segment, “Deals of the Week.” In other words, Jill has made a career out of couponing.

Jill has also been a voice of reason in the backlash against couponing brought about by the popularity of the “Extreme Couponing” show, and a crusader for integrity and ethics in couponing.

LISA

Lisa Erdman, an avid couponer in Pennsylvania, on the other hand, has been doing the coupon gig for as long as she has been married, nearly thirty-five years. She credits her Aunt “Honey” for getting her started when she and her husband John were first married. They didn’t have a lot of
