

Chris and Jack's Go-to Crypto Resources

Bitcoin Magazine: <https://bitcoinmagazine.com/>

This is our go-to resource for long-form articles that dive deep into critical developments in the cryptoasset space. While there is day-to-day coverage, we rely on it mostly for deep dives into complex topics.

BitInfoCharts: <https://bitinfocharts.com/>

While the user interface has historically been an eyesore, don't judge a book by its cover. The site is a data trove for information that's hard to find elsewhere, such as transaction characteristics, hash rate, rich lists, and so on for most all of the notable cryptoassets.

Blockchain.info: <https://blockchain.info/charts>

The best place for charts and easily downloadable CSV files of Bitcoin network statistics.

BraveNewCoin: <https://bravenewcoin.com/>

A bevy of resources from analysis, to APIs, to carefully crafted indices, BraveNewCoin is focused on providing professional-grade resources.
