

We all have some amount of debt, but some of us are up to our eyeballs. I can reassure you, it is not your fault! The aggressive practices by the credit card companies, banks, mortgage lenders, department stores, corporations, lending institutions – the entire consumer lending industry – are criminal in my opinion and should be illegal, but in fact the federal government allows it to happen. These companies take advantage of the American citizen, and our government has already rubber stamped its approval of their treacherous ways. This deceitful abuse of the people of our country is the greatest rip-off in our nation's history.

Just what are these aggressive, underhanded tactics? In a nutshell, the system is geared to keep you in debt! The practices of the industry are designed to make sure you are late on your monthly payments, to make sure you go over the limit on your credit cards, and to make sure that the enormous fees and incredibly high interest rates continue to go up and up. Hang on and I will explain in detail, but first, notice the title of this book: Debt Cures "They" Don't Want You to Know About. Who is the "they" that I am referring to? The credit companies, the mortgage lenders, and the banks, of course. And the United States federal government.

Obscene Profits

Why should they care what I am telling you? The almighty dollar, of course. They want it, and they want it to come from you. All companies are out to make a profit, and I have no problem with that. I do have a problem with industry insiders confiding that the profits these companies make are not only astronomical, but are referred to as "obscene profits," likened to those parties who are involved in oil cartels. They – these lending institutions – are predators, and they prey on the innocent hard working bill-paying individuals of the United States. It's like the American citizen doesn't have a prayer. And it's not me saying it. The government officials and the insiders call the profits that the banks and the credit card companies and the mortgage companies are making "obscene."

The American credit card industry alone earns a profit of $30 billion every year. Not $30 million; $30 billion. And they still want more.
