

This incredibly simple and little known technique is one of the great Debt Cures solutions!

Simple, Yet Amazing

It does not seem like it should make any difference at all, paying your mortgage this way, but it makes a tremendous difference. The amount of interest that you pay is greatly reduced each month because the bank or mortgage firm is getting a good portion of their payment early. You are not paying nearly as much interest, and more is going toward paying your principal. It really works!

You can shave years and years off the life of your mortgage! That is THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS SAVED! Why pay all that interest when you don't have to? Your monthly household expenses will not change and it may even make it easier to budget. Knowing that you will pay one-fourth of the whole house payment each week may be easier than making one big whopper of a payment.

Tom and Tammi get paid twice a month, so they wondered if they could apply this same technique, but instead of paying weekly, they would pay bi-monthly, with each paycheck.

For the August 1 mortgage payment, Tom and Tammi pay $2000 on July 15 and $2000 on August 1. Same idea as above. Their monthly payment has not changed in amount or due date. They are paying the whole amount by the first of the month. They are not paying anything more out of their pockets, but Tom and Tammi have knocked SEVEN years off their mortgage. Just like that! That is THOUSANDS and THOUSANDS of dollars in interest.

Another quick and easy method is to make just one extra mortgage payment each year toward your principal. Don't think this will amount to much? Think again. By making this extra payment, you could shave as much as three years off of a 20-year fixed rate mortgage. That adds up to a lot of extra money in your pocket – money that the lenders
