

your credit. There is no magic wand to wave, just all the steps previously covered in this book. Simple, easy techniques that will bring you to the point where you say, “Okay, let’s talk about good credit.”

Good Credit

According to credit expert Hazel Valera, credit is the number one reason that people cannot move forward in their lives. I have shown you how to reduce or eliminate your debt so that you can move forward. You can move on with a peace of mind, knowing that you won’t end up in that situation again. You know how the lending institutions operate, and you won’t be falling into their traps any longer.

Some people believe that they can never have credit trouble if they never use credit. They are anti-establishment, anti-government, and anti-corporate America, so they do not want to give the big bank boys one dime. I understand that. But always paying with just cash is not the answer. It may prevent bad credit issues, but you need good credit. The best way to be anti-big bank is to play their game, and use their money, instead of them using yours. You need to play with their credit.

Ms. Valera also said that it is detrimental to not use credit! Sometimes people fall into the bad credit trap, but it can also be just the opposite. Good credit breeds good credit. Sure, you can pay cash and try to avoid even having a credit score, but that will not propel you forward. You will stay right where you are. You will have mortar, but no bricks. Debt Cures is for those who are willing to move ahead.

Credit itself is not a “bad” thing.

The credit card companies and the big banks think they are the only ones that can play by their rules. We do not have to become greedy money-grubbing sharks, but we can wise up to the ways of the world and not get taken advantage of again. We will use certain tactics to take advantage of what is available to us.
