

Getting out of debt and on to creating wealth is the goal of this book. The concepts that have been outlined are easy to follow. Thousands of people have gotten out of their rut and are now living the life of their dreams. You can too.

Free Money

You need to know that there is money out there and available for you to use; free money. What do I mean by free? You do not have to repay.

What do I mean by free?

You do not have to repay.

No, it does not grow on trees; and I am not telling you to put on a black mask and rob a convenience store. Don't snatch purses either. Gifts are great, and an inheritance would be wonderful, but most of us don't have an old rich uncle who will leave us set for life. However, there are programs and grants out there, right under our noses, which could give us money to pay living expenses or start a business or pay credit card bills. You just have to know where to find them.

Where to Begin

The government has billions of dollars in grants, and most people don't know that they even exist. It is not something they advertise on billboards or tell you about when they send your tax bill. Big business knows about this money. You need to as well.

The beauty of grants is that they are not loans, and they are not federal aid. A grant is money given to you, money that you do not have to repay. There are also low cost loans with low interest, but free money sounds a heck of a lot more fun.

The money can go to anyone who qualifies and asks for it. There may be income limits for some programs, but not all. A number of millionaires and even huge corporations have taken advantage of these programs, so you should too.
