

More Great Sites

Besides the wonder power of www.grants.gov and www.govbenefits.gov, there are more terrific, valuable, and useful websites that can help you find fantastic grant and low cost loan opportunities. There is so much information out there, for FREE, and no one knows about it. Most people think it doesn't exist or that they have to pay for it. Now I hope you can see what I am so excited about. Free money and amazing loan opportunities are out there, and I want you to know about them!

The official website of the federal government, USA.gov (<http://www.usa.gov>), contains valuable information about all US government agencies. The first topic listed is Benefits and Grants. This link gives you lots of official information on grants, loans, financial aid and other benefits from the US government. You can even sign up to be notified when the benefit page is updated. Outstanding!

Look for yourself and see if among the thousands of available grants the government is giving away, maybe one, two, or more just might be right for you. Look, find a grant, check your eligibility. So simple, so easy, so quick! Start now! Or maybe you will want to finish the book since you are in the homestretch, and then you can jump on the computer!

Govloans.gov (<http://www.govloans.gov>) is your gateway to government loan information. This site directs you to the loan information that best meets your needs and is an excellent source for locating loans for children, agriculture, business, disaster relief, education, housing, veterans, or just about anything for which you might need a loan.

Lots of people – a million every year – are getting free money and cheap loans from the government! These entrepreneurs are finding the grants that they don't have to pay back, and they are taking out low interest loans to build their wealth. They talk to the Small Business Administration and they seek venture capital – private investors willing to invest in their business. They also know that there are “angels” all around us. Sometimes these angel investors are more than willing to donate to your business.
