

card companies and the banks are doing is just plain wrong. We need to tackle that.

Solutions!

And we need to realize that the information packed in Debt Cures is also about solutions. It's about knowledge. If people know what to do, they can reverse the roles, they can get control. Like salve to an open wound, the methods found in Debt Cures can ease the pain of debt, relieve the burden you bear, and put a little spring back into your step. When you are feeling bouncy, you are more apt to feel like you can take on the so-called powers that can control us and our financial situations. So let's bounce.

What I am about to tell you might get you a little ruffled, but in a good way, and that is okay.

Since you are reading a book, I will assume that you are sitting down, but if you are not, then I will ask you to please take a seat. I don't want you passing out and falling down when you read what I am about to say next.

One of the best-kept secrets of the consumer lending industry is the fact – yes, I said fact – that you – yes, I said you – may be able to eliminate 100% of your debt! The whole lump sum, poof, gone! That is worth getting excited about. Now you may put the book down for a moment and jump up and down like the people who have just won a car on The Price Is Right!

Better Than a Game Show

Eliminating the whole sh-bang of your debt is better than winning a car. It is like getting the keys to your life back. Of course, not everyone will be able to get rid of the entire 100% of debt, but some of you will. Are you still jumping around? I would be! For those of you who don't qualify for this top-secret strategy, do not despair! We will soon get to the next chapter in which there's a technique that I believe virtually every person who has credit card debt can use to cut their payments in half – virtually overnight! I repeat anyone can successfully reduce their debt by up to half or even up to 75%!
