

To use the chat interface, you require a Pro subscription. If you do not want to pay for the Pro subscription, you can simply Google search for any of the LLMs that interest you, open the appropriate website, create a free account, and start using it. Many of these models are available to see and use at the front end. Suppose you want to use the Claude 3 LLM. Then, you must search for it on your browser and open the relevant website.

After that, you just need to create an account.

5.2 Comparing different LLMs

The landing page for Claude 3 will look something like this. Since you already have an account, you do not have to create a new one.

This is an LLM backed by Amazon. It is one of the best LLMs out there. At the time of writing, it was even beating ChatGPT 4.0 for all possible parameters. You can see that Claude 3 can understand and work with images. If you upload an image of a product, it can produce a product description. Claude 3 can convert it into front-end code if you upload a UI design.
