

In the conclusion, Gemini and Claude take the cake. There's no right or wrong answer here. The best LLM depends on what you are looking to do.

If you want to do a lot of research, go for Microsoft Bing's Copilot or Google's Gemini. If the research involves looking at real-time data, go for Microsoft Bing's Copilot.

If you are looking for a formal language-based LLM or an LLM that can generate generic text, go for ChatGPT. If you want more creative writing, go for Gemini or Claude. So, the choice of LLM depends on your needs.

To create writing with accuracy and less prompting, Claude is the best.

If you want to make your LLM or fine-tune your content on an LLM, then Mistral and Llama can help you a lot.
