

It could most significantly help expand on ideas, creative cues, and further possibilities of narratives in brainstorming sessions to make the creative process dynamic and productive.

ChatGPT can go through drafts and provide constructive feedback on areas for improvement in plot coherence, character development, and style elements. Such feedback helps writers refine their work in pursuit of the final polished product.

