Free ChatGPT can't share data sources; advanced versions can

ChatGPT has also shared its data sources. Traditional or the free version of ChatGPT cannot do this. Now, disabling the extension, at the bottom, you can see buttons for '1-click prompts' and 'Web access.' Now disable these buttons and ask, 'Who is Hitesh Motwani?'

This time, you got this response:

I don't have specific information about individuals unless they are publicly known figures up to my last update in January 2022. If Hitesh Motwani is not a public figure or has not gained prominence before that time, I might not have information about them. If they've become notable after that, I wouldn't have that information. Could you provide more context?

Disable '1-click prompts' and 'Web access,' then ask: "Who is Hitesh Motwani?"

Here, the free version does not have data beyond January 2022. So, that is the power of this extension- web access. Let's turn on the web access and ask a comparison question.
