

These images are so realistic that you cannot even tell the difference between reality and AI.

Leonardo.ai also has a feature for real-time image generation wherein the image gets updated as you type the prompt. In the following screen grabs, observe how the image is slightly different as the prompt gets updated.

Example 1

