

You also described an elastic image of an orange bursting with juice to emphasise freshness and a dew drop illustration to enhance this effect. For the back of the packaging, you asked the tool to include details such as nutrition information and ingredients, presented with minimal design elements like leaves against a glossy, gradient orange background.

These are the results you got.

Design packaging for a cartoon-style orange juice product.

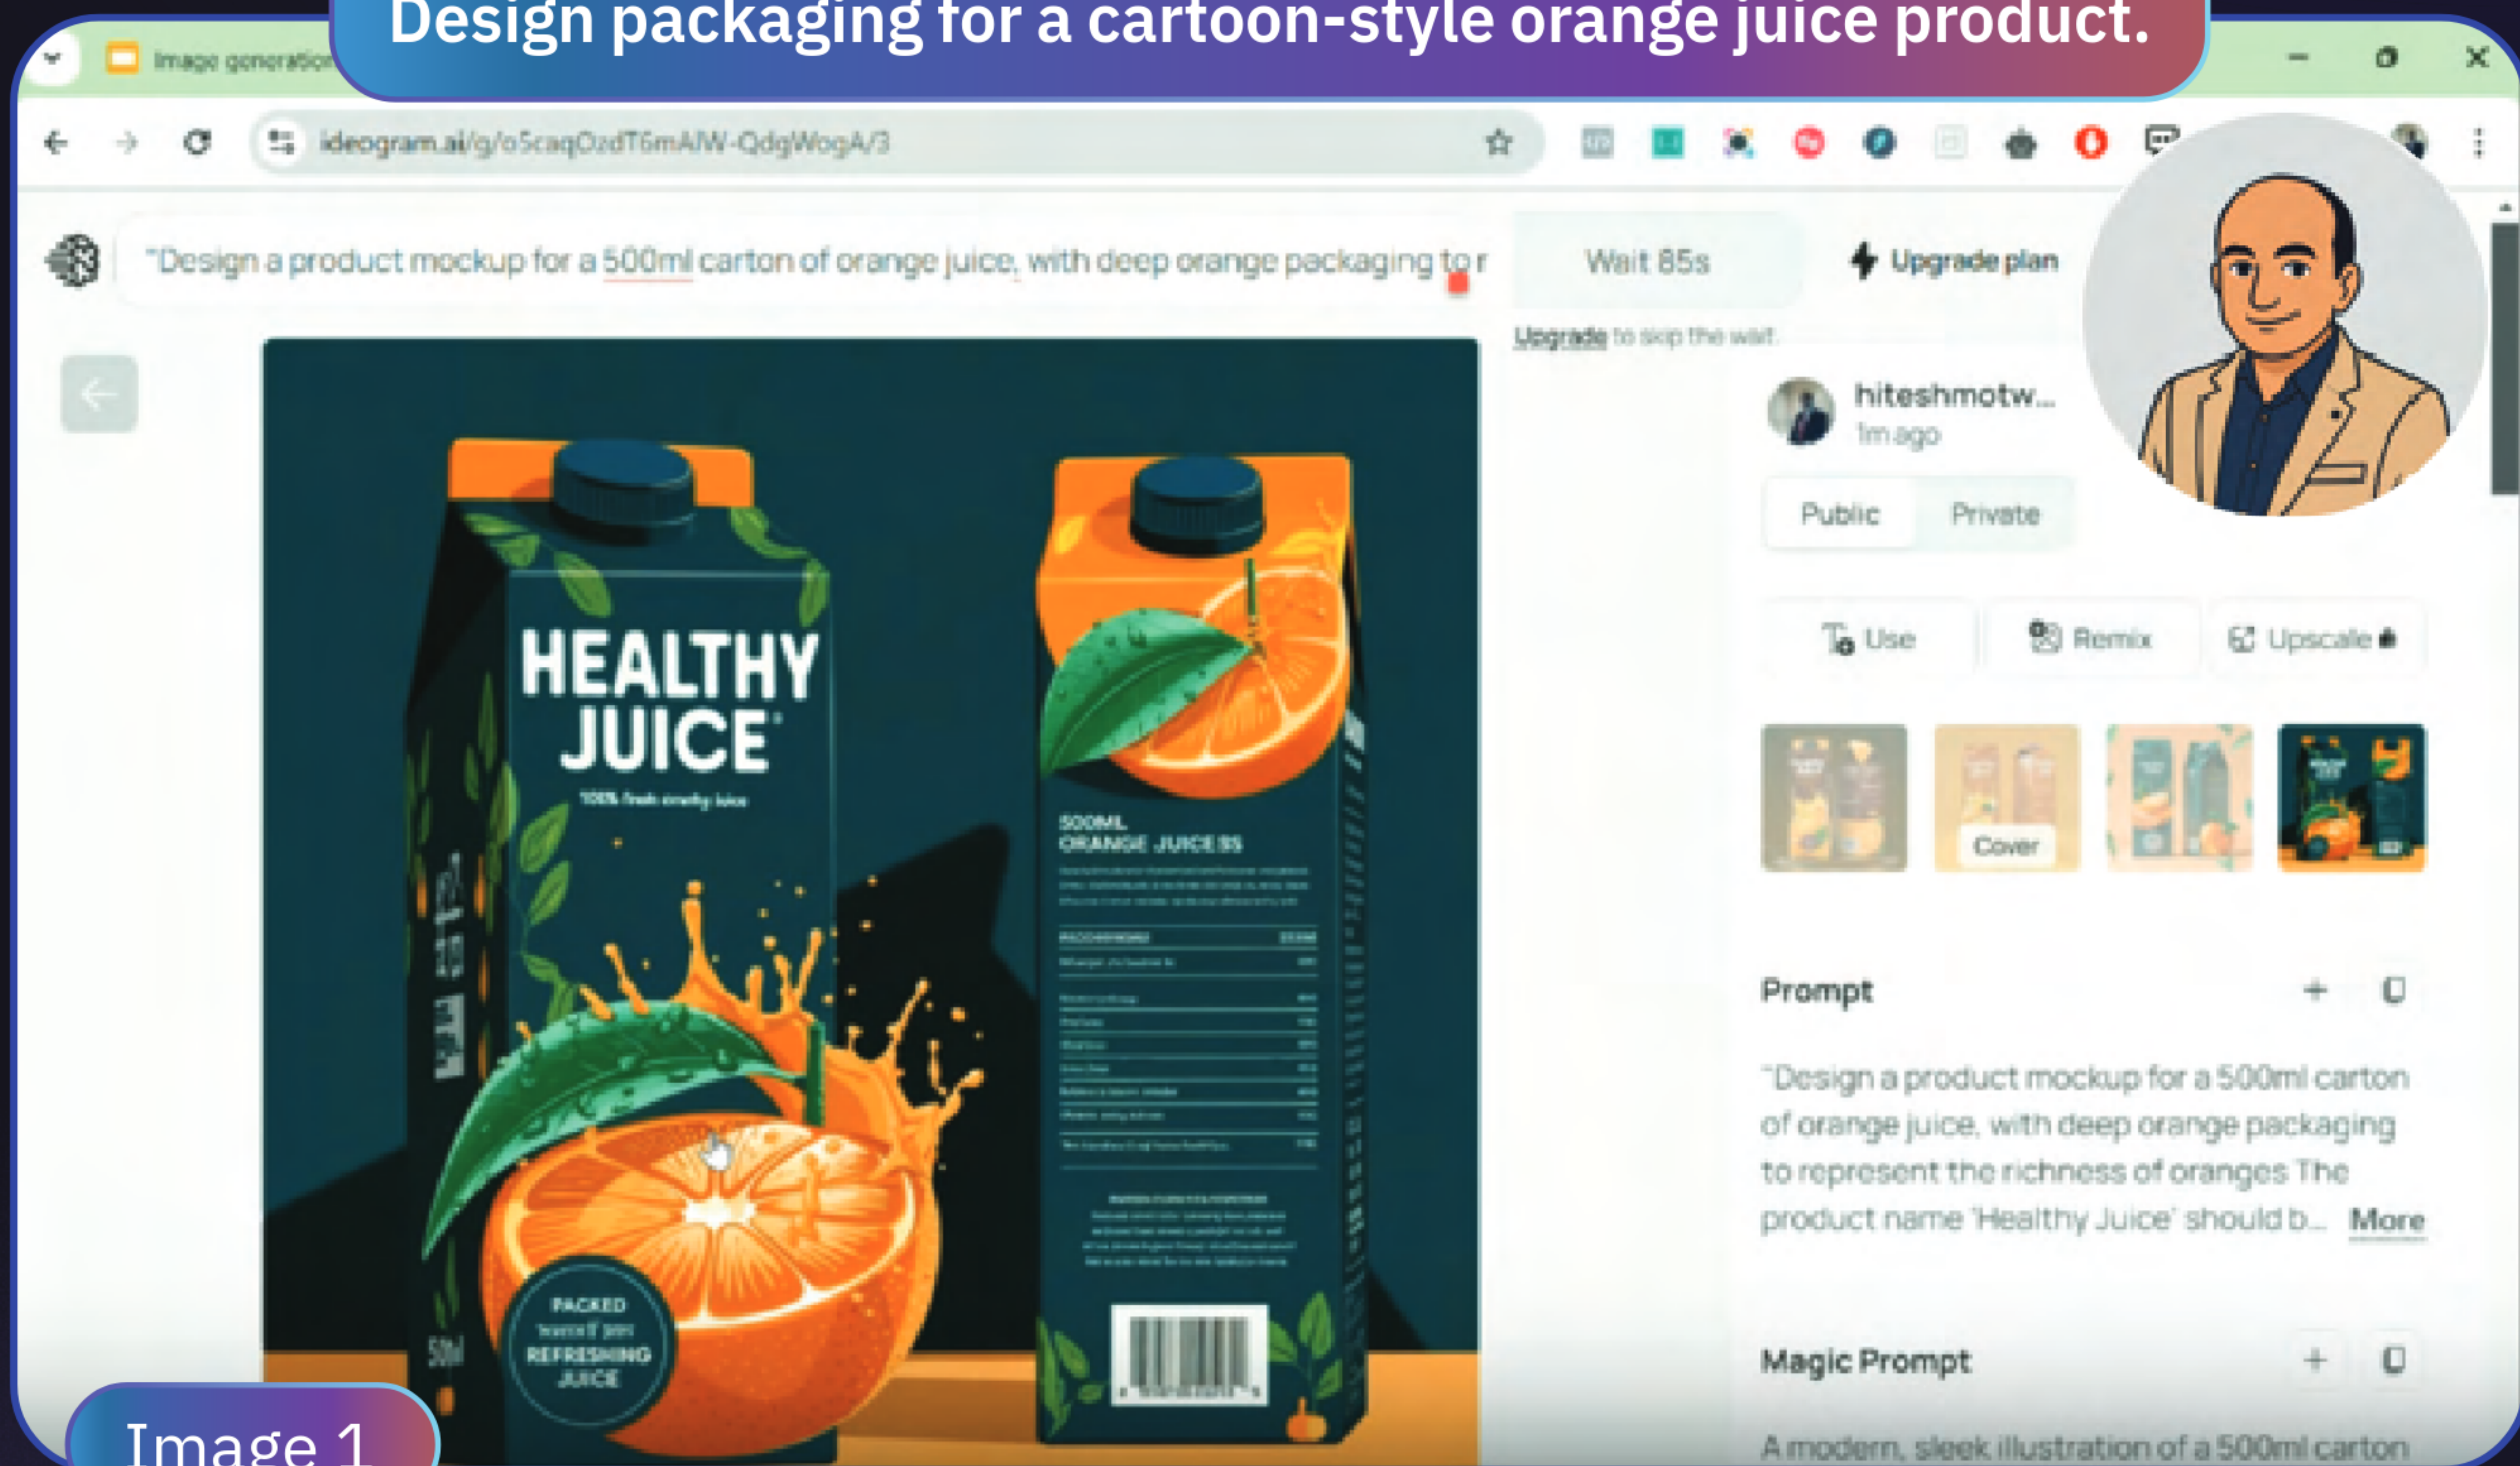

Image 1

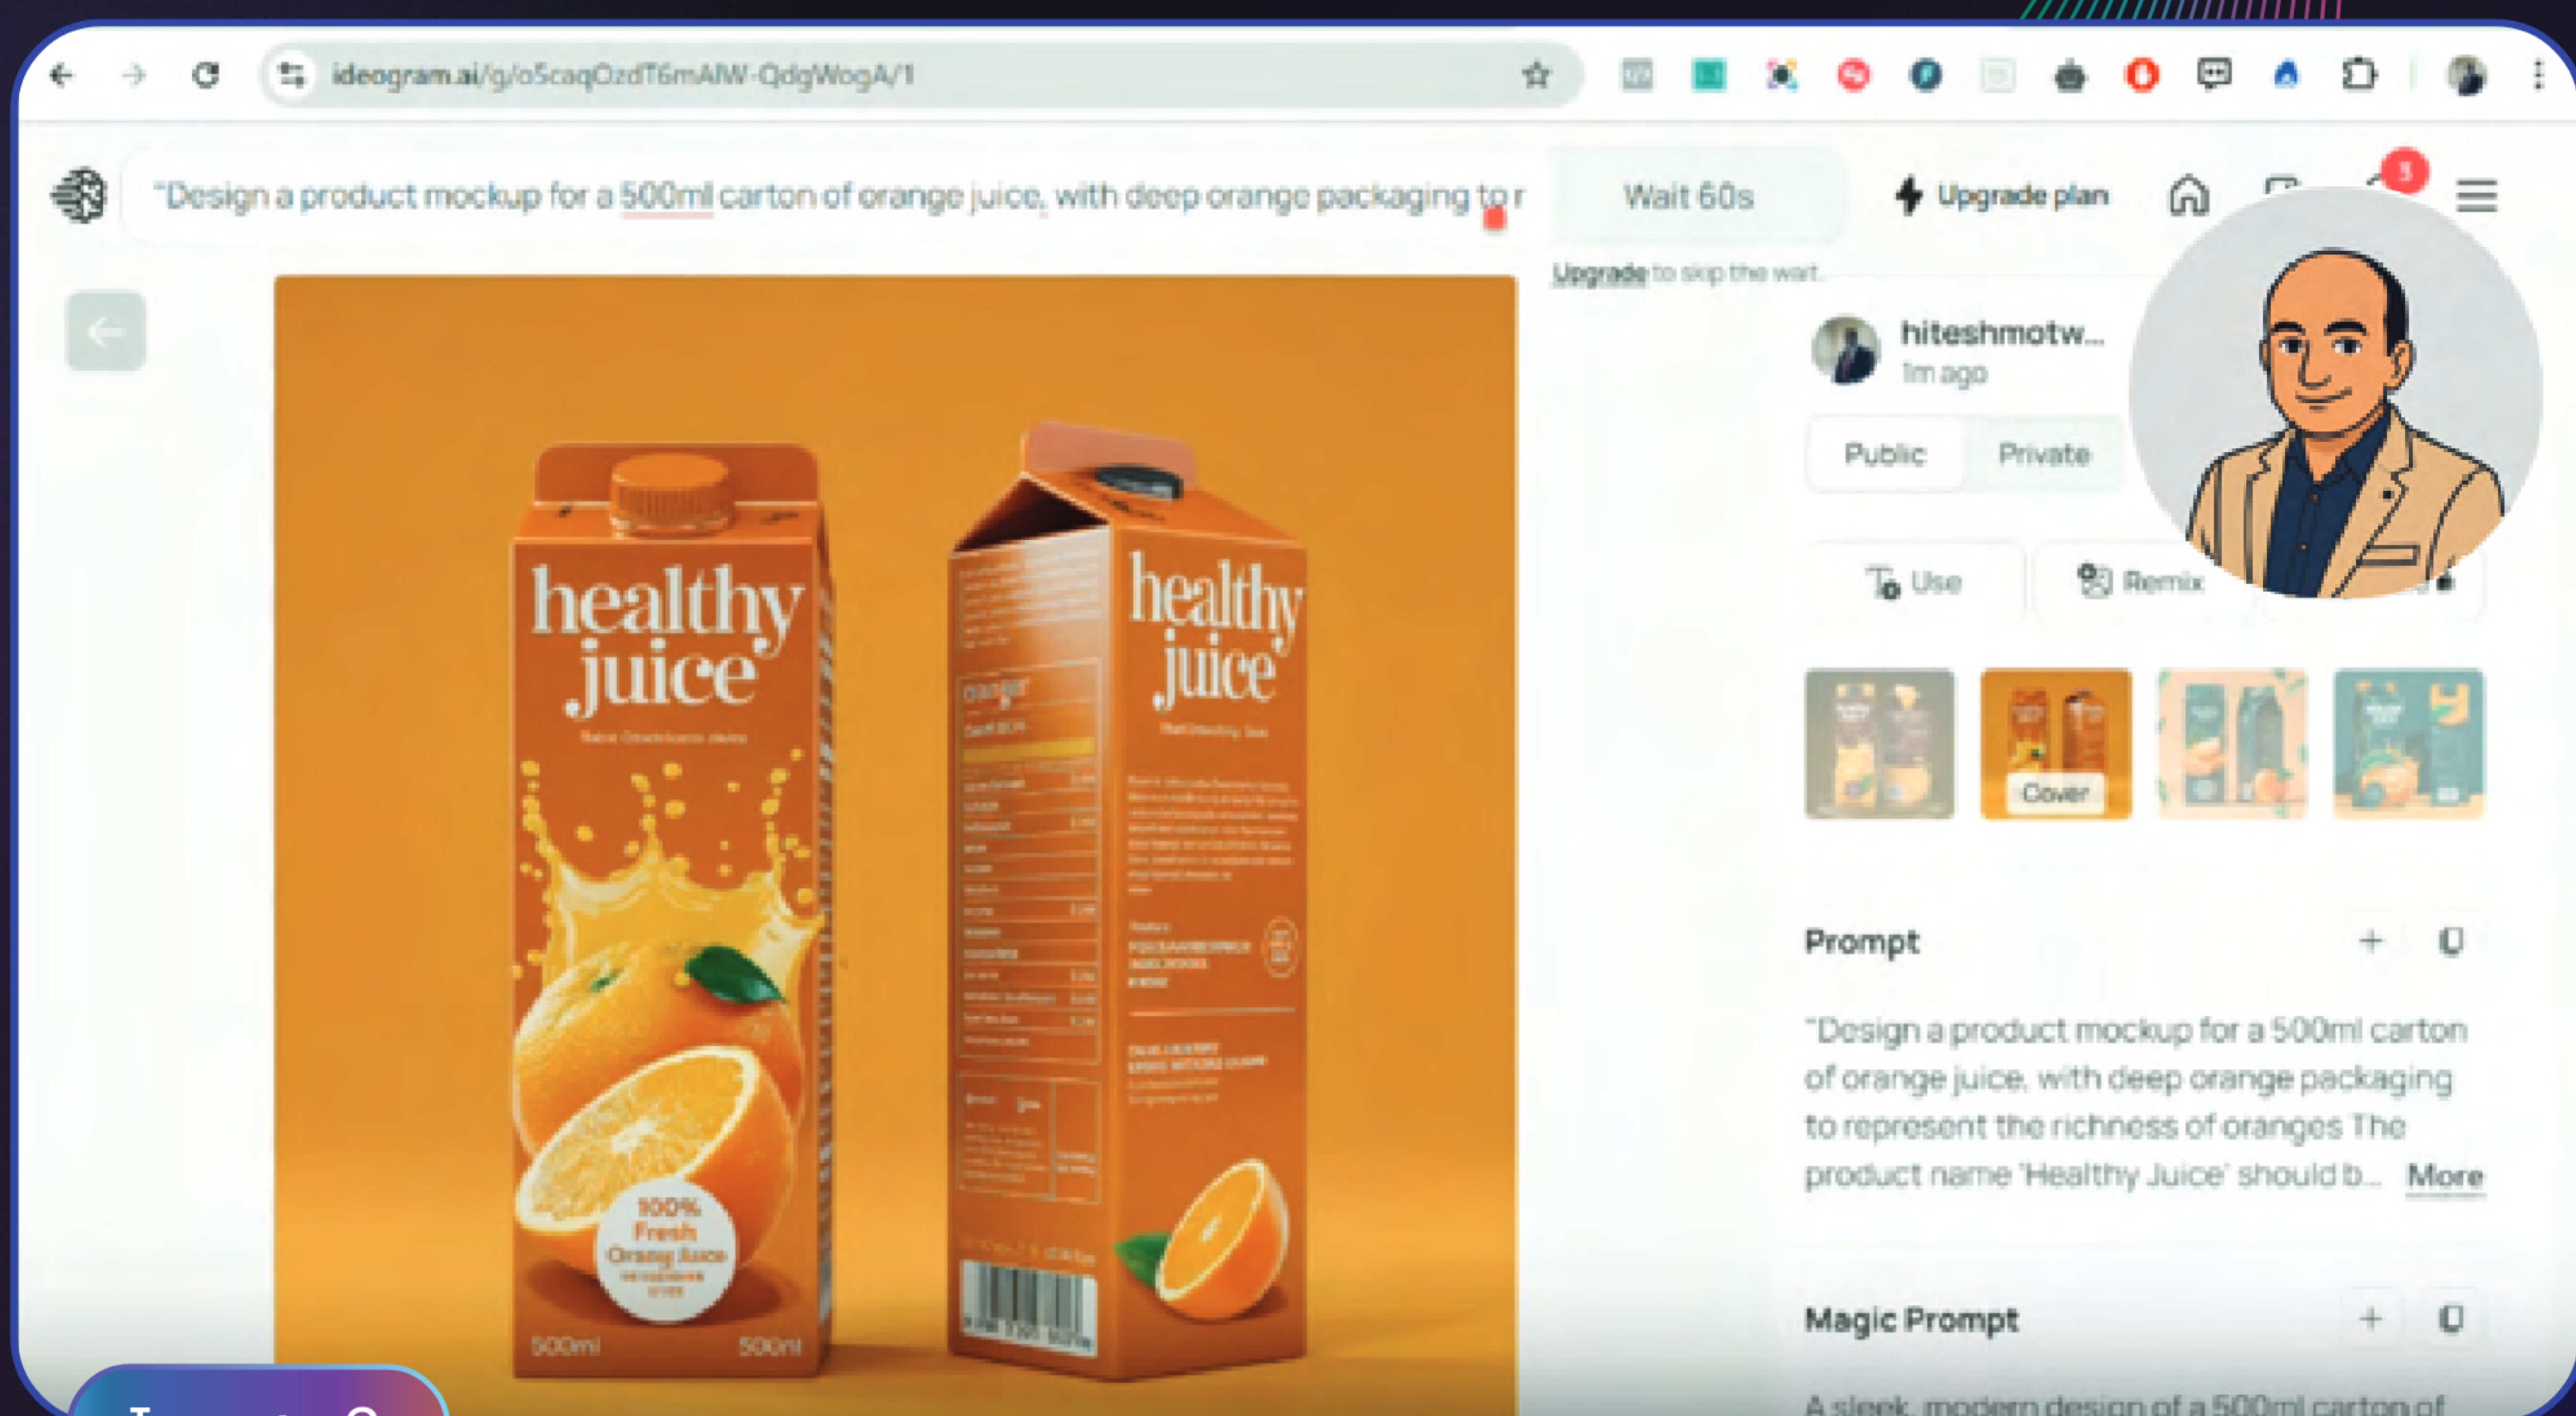

Image 2