They've got multiple voices, as you can see below. You can choose from cloned voices, multi-lingual voices, and various languages. The number of voices is just as diverse as Clipchamp, and you find the voice quality to be better here.

You choose English US as the dialect and Davis as the voice.

When you try this, you will see that the voice sounds much more natural. So, if you want a tone that is more natural, go for naturalreaders.com.
