

You chose the video that said, 'Don't be shocked!' Then choose between the default or cropped avatar; choose the default avatar.

What this tool does is it takes your voice and puts it in the image that starts talking to you. You can also put your own image or video.

Most of the tools in this category are paid tools, and there are very few tools which are free, and talking head is one of them. This tool will leave a watermark which can be removed using some editing tools.

Once this tool generates the video, you can preview it on the website itself, download it, or share it on social media.
