

Once you subscribe to HeyGen and login, this is what the page looks like.

HeyGen allows users to create lifelike video avatars, which can simulate hand gestures and facial movements in sync with a provided audio track. To generate a video, you need to click on the ‘create video’ option, choose avatar-based video, and select video format. In the demonstration, the landscape mode is chosen and uploaded as a video.

This is the screen for choosing what type of content to create that shows up after clicking on create video option.
